

HAIDEH HERBERT

204 South Oakhurst Drive, Beverly Hills, California 90212

Phone: (310) 273-4155

E-mail: haidehherbert@hotmail.com

---

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

M.S.            Rehabilitation Counseling
California State University, Los Angeles, 2001

Teaching        Teaching Credentials Preparation
Credentials     UCLA Extension. 1988

M.A.            English Language and Literature
Tehran University, Iran 1976

B.S.            Psychology
Tehran University, Iran 1972

HONORS

Special Recognition In Graduate Studies Award from CSULA
Full Scholarships for BA and MA studies from Tehran University
American Field Service Exchange Student in high school

COUNSELING and VOCATIONAL EVALUATION EXPERIENCE

Senior Vocational Rehabilitation Counselor, QRP, Department of Rehabilitation,
Supervisor in Rehabilitation and Assessment, Jewish Vocational Service, 5/2003-
Vocational Evaluator/Case Manager, Jewish Vocational Service
Vocational Evaluation Specialist, Anfusso Vocational Services
Learning Disabilities Evaluator, Career Options Assessment Center,

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Adjunct Faculty Member, Santa Monica College
Remediation Specialist , The Kelter Center, learning to learn
Adult ESL Teacher, mentor, branch coordinator, Los Angeles Unified School District: Refugee
Employment Training Project and Fairfax CAS.

PUBLICATIONS

Neither the Head nor the Tail Of The Onion, a memoir ready for publication.

Short stories, Glen Ivy Hot Springs, Revolutionary Training for Kids, Char Mezrab and It Could Have Been Me have been selected and performed by The Braid (formerly Jewish Women's Theatre)

The Champagne Rocket and It Could Have Been Me on the digital platform of Medium.

Her short story Are Girls Bad was selected as a finalist by Wow! Women Writers' Magazine.

Lead-editor and co-contributor in development of Intake Forms, Screening Tools (for learning disability, mental health, substance abuse), and the accompanying Informational Manual for WorkSources (Ready for printing), 2006

Ghost writer of Farsi Language Maps for Bilingual Books, Inc. 2009

Co-author of English for Technology: Language Skills for using everyday technology, Dominie Press, 1999

Co-author of Portals to Diversity, Division of Adult and Career Education, The Los Angeles Unified School District, 1997

Co-author of English for Special Purposes (ESP) for Students of Social Sciences, Tehran University Press, 1985

COMMUNITY ACTIVITIES

President of Parent Teacher Association of Ettefaq School in Tehran 1980-1986

Executive board member at Iranian-American Jewish Federation 2010-present

Co-chair of Resources Committee at Iranian American Jewish Federation 2010-2014

Co-chair of Emergency Fund Committee at IAJF 2020-present

Board and founding member of The Graduate Society, 1991 - present

Member of Education Committee at Sinai Temple, 1995-1997

Board member of Westside Jewish Community Center, 1989 - 1993.

PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

CSULA Alumni Association

California Coalition for Counselor Licensure (CCCL)

PUBLICATIONS:

Co-authored English for Technology: Dominie Press, 1999

English for Students of Economics and Business Administration, Tehran University Press, Tehran, Iran, 1982.

She is currently in contact with literary agents to publish her memoir HEAD NOR THE TAIL OF THE ONION, ready for publication. Her short stories, Glen Ivy Hot Springs, Revolutionary Training for Kids, Char Mezrab and It Could Have Been Me have been selected and performed by The Braid (formerly Jewish Women's Theatre). She has published two stories The Champagne Rocket and It Could Have Been Me on the digital platform of Medium. Her short story Are Girls Bad was selected as a finalist by Wow! Women Writers' Magazine.

1. Author of Character Movement in American Post World War I and II Fiction, Tehran Iran, 1977 (Master's citation Thesis.)
2. Co-author of English for Special Purposes (ESP) for Students of Social Sciences, Tehran University Press, 1985
3. Co-author of Portals to Diversity, Division of Adult and Career Education, The Los Angeles Unified School District, 1997
4. Co-author of English for Technology: Language Skills for using everyday technology, Dominie Press, 1999
5. Ghost writer of Farsi Language Maps for Bilingual Books, Inc. 2009